JUST LIKE BILL TAFT.

It is easy to laugh when the battle's fought
And you know the victory's won; Yes, easy to laugh when the prize you sought Is yours when the race is run; But here's to the man who can laugh when the blast

Of adversity blows; he will win at the last,
For the hardest man in the world to beat
Is the man who can laugh in the face of defeat.

PASTOR CLARK'S UNIQUE METHOD

The Public Ledger: Rev. R. L. Clark during the past when making announcements, would ever extend cordial and most earnest invitations to attend Wednesday evening prayer meeting services, and yet the numbers have not been as desired. Therefore, on Lord's Day morning last the Pastor adopted a new and very unique method by not inviting a single soul.

The course struck one with double force, reminding the writer that he himself had been exceedingly remiss in his duty, and thus resolving to be present this midweek meeting; hoping that fifty others will do the same and thus gladden the minister's heart.

GONE TO LOUISVILLE

Former Lieutenant Governor Cox to Take Up His Abode at Henry Watterson
Hotel

THE PUBLIC LEDGER announces with sincere regret that former Lieutenant Governor William H. Cox and wife left Maysville this morning for Louisville, where Mr. Cox is closely identified with the Great Southern Fire Insurance Co., the largest American company in the South.

They will make their home at the new Hotel Henry Watterson and will probably reside permanently in Louisville, and may rent their large and elegant home in West Third street, his city.

Mr. Cox was born and has resided all his life in this city and has $100,000 invested in choice real estate here, including his home, the Cox Row of dwellings, the Masonic Temple Building; besides he owns a large block of stock in the Maysville Public Service Co., (street railway, gas and electric) and is also a large owner of bank stock.

He served for years as a member of the City Council, was Mayor for several terms, is one of the most prominent Oddfellows in the U. S., is one of the Vestry of the Episcopal Church of the Nativity here, served two terms in the Kentucky Senate, closing his official career with four years as Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, with his confere, Governor A. E. Willson, also a distinguished Maysville native.

An unsullied record to be proud of. Maysville can ill afford to lose such a sterling citizen, but as a larger and more interesting business field awaits him in the Falls City, Mr. Cox feels that he cannot afford to remain in Maysville. The Great Southern Fire Insurance Co., of which Mr. Cox is Secretary and Treasurer, has already enjoyed a phenomenal rise in business, and its $200,000 skyscraper in Louisville now nearing completion, and its rapid growth, demands all the attention of its officials; hence the main office is his proper place, however much his departure from Maysville is to be regretted. Mrs. Cox's leaving, too, is a great loss to our social circles, as she was a leader in everything for the advancement of social and charitable features and was a devout member of the Episcopal Church.

May good luck attend them in Louisville, but it is to be hoped that they may yet return to the city of their life's work—commonly called HOME—and Maysville.

From the noise its making now it must be merely a Bull Mouse.

This is the first time in eighteen years that the Democratic party has captured the executive and legislative branches of the national government, and will be in position to take positive control of the situation March 4th.

"Packy" McFarland, a light-weight in the prize ring, retires in the twenties with $200,000. The late Justice Harlan, a heavy-weight on the Supreme Bench, died near 80 leaving about $20,000. Yet nobody ever heard Justice Harlan demanding a social revolution and a fairer division of the profits of toil.—Courier Journal.

The Republicans do not claim a monopoly of sunshine and rain, as is sometimes sneeringly asserted, but they do claim to have a better plan for keeping the factories running and the laboring man employed than the Democrats have ever been able to show. Protective Tariff makes the difference between the two parties.—Mitchellville (La.) Index.

Mr. Taft is the sixth president to be rejected by the people as a candidate for re-election. John Adams was defeated by Jefferson, John Quincy Adams by Jackson, Van Buren by William H. Harrison, Cleveland by Ben Harrison and Ben Harrison by Cleveland, the last mentioned thus gaining his second term after an interval of four years.

CRIPPLING THE FOOD AND DRUGS ACT.

The Journal of the American Medical Association, discussing the McCabe-Wilson-Dunlap conspiracy to oust Dr. Wiley from the bureau of Chemistry, says that the Food and Drugs Act was seriously crippled both by the inadequacy of the punishment meted out to its violators and by the interminable delay in bringing cases to trial. Good examples of the law's delay are found in two notices of judgment recently published. One of these records a case in which an offense committed in January, 1910, finally came to trial in April, 1912. The public document giving information about this case was not issued until Sept. 27th, 1912. The other case described was one of misbranding committed in August, 1910, and brought to trial in April, 1912. The public was given information about this case Sept. 27th, 1912. Both of these were clear-cut cases of misbranding. In one, the defendant declined to contest the charge, and was let off with the mere payment of costs; in the other, a plea of guilty was entered and a fine of five dollars was imposed. How much of a deterrent is a law which is so enforced that it may take two years or more for a given case to come to trial and when finally brought to trial results in a mere nominal fine? One of the best preventives against law violation is newspaper publicity. Many firms of the "large and respected" type which, under present conditions, do not hesitate to misbrand or adulterate foods and drugs, would think twice about doing so, if they found that the newspapers of the country would give wide publicity to their trial and conviction for such misdemeanors. But the average live newspaper does not want to deal with facts that have become ancient history before they reach the public. "There are more ways of killing a cat than by drowning it," and there are more ways of killing a law than by failing to enforce it.

Those who undertook to rule or ruin the Republican party did neither.

It is vain to hope that Democracy will reduce the high cost of turkey for Thanksgiving.

VACATIONS FOR WORKING GIRLS.

The gentle art of "How to Enjoy a Vacation" is to be taught, by suggestion at least, to Cincinnati's working girls, if the plans of the recently formed vacation committee find encouragement among the girls themselves. The vacation committee idea comes from the East where it is said to be in successful operation; and there seems to be no reason why it should not meet with favor here. A number of young matrons constitute the committee and will endeavor to have the girls employed in the stores, offices, etc., save a portion of their earnings during the winter months, placing it in a savings bank, where it will draw interest.

The committee's work will be to find pleasant boarding places in the country close to Cincinnati, each place to be personally investigated by the committee before it is recommended. Then, when summer comes and vacations are possible, the girls will be given the addresses of the accepted places, and—with their own money, saved a little at a time—they will be in a position to take advantage of low boarding rates, short journeys and the health-giving air and fare of the country.

The plan is in no sense a philanthropy; it is simply an organized effort to help the tired and not-too-well-paid city working girl acquire a maximum of renewed health and rest at a minimum of cost.—Times Star

THE DAILY NOVELLETTE.

Louisville Times.

The night was dark. There was hardly a moon in the sky.

Slim Pete, Bullseye Bill and Slimy McCroog stood outside the magnificent old mansion and whispered behind the shade of a Dooberry tree. Anybody could tell they were robbers.

"Slimy, you keep your peepers on the front of the house. Slim, you sneak around the back and keep your lamps open, and I'll shin up the water spout and pass down the swag from the third-story windows," hissed Bullseye Bill.

"Right!" breathed Slim Pete, "and if anybody asks you what you're doin' up there, tell 'em you're waitin' for a friend."

As Slimy McCroog crept up the water spout not a sound was heard but the purring of the katydids and the cheep of the chestnut blight. Yet he knew his pals were watching.

It was a perilous climb. Twice he slipped and would have fallen if his right hand had not been wrapped around his equilibrium. Expert climber that he was, it took him an hour to scale the slippery pipe. With bated breath Slim Pete and Bullseye Bill saw his burly form disappear within the third-story window. The funny part of it is, it was a vacant house.

SCHOOLS CLOSE TO MOTHER EARTH

What Corn and Potato Clubs Do For the Boys.

GROWTH OF THE MOVEMENT.

Jefferson County Leads With Its Magnificent Gardening Land—How William Frey Grew Eighty-eight Bushels of Potatoes on One-fourth of an Acre.

Gradually the thinking school people are beginning to see and understand that if the parents will not go to the school the school must go to the home and make itself felt. Nothing has helped more in this movement than the boys' corn and potato clubs in this and many other states. The tremendous growth of the movement is due largely to a rational use of the children's enthusiasm and desire TO DO SOMETHING THEMSELVES. PLEASURE IN ACHIEVEMENT COMES FROM DOING IT YOURSELF, and pleasure in achievement is the largest factor in human life.

William and Walter Frey live about eight miles from Louisville in a splendid farming and gardening section of Jefferson county. When your reporter visited them on Saturday, 2d of November, he found them busy storing "second crop" potatoes for the winter market.

William Frey, the elder brother, grew one-fourth of an acre of potatoes this season. He harvested eighty-eight bushels of splendid tubers on the plot. When he was asked about the crop and its cultivation, he said:

"Yes, that yield was some better than most of the neighbors around here. You see, eighty-eight bushels on my little piece is the same as 112 barrels to the acre. Of course I did some things the neighbors didn't do, because I did all of my work from the directions the government sent me. Everybody plows manure under when they break the ground in the spring, but I used my two big wagon loads of rotted manure for a top dressin' after my potatoes were in the ground.

"The folks that came over here said my potatoes were darker green than any of the others in the neighborhood, and we all saw that the vines were mighty heavy and fine. I went over the patch three times with a fourteen tooth cultivator, and I was careful not to let it cut deeper than two inches. After that I gave it two workin's with a five tooth cultivator.

"Yes, my potatoes will get the first prize this year in this county. It'll make the quarter of an acre pay mighty well, because it's $50 in gold." Walter Frey, the younger brother, has an acre of corn in the contest, but it had not been husked when your correspondent visited the farm early in November. The ground showed that careful work had been done during the summer, and the eighteen huge shocks that stood upon the acre gave promise of a large yield.

"I planted the Boone County White that the state furnished us boys," he said in answer to my questions, "but I only got about half a stand of corn, so I had to use some of our own Boone County for replanting the acre. Of course a bad stand is a mighty poor start in a corn contest. Next time I am goin' to test the seed so as to be sure about my stand.

"Yes, I used a lot of manure on that acre. Before I plowed it this spring I scattered four big loads of manure so I could turn it under.

"I was goin' to do more plowin' and cultivatin' than anybody around here this year, but a big windstorm tangled it so I had to quit early. I did cultivate it four times and didn't stir the ground more than two inches deep. The directions for corn makes that a mighty strong point."

NATURE

Provides Compasses—Those Who Roam the Fields Need Never Lose Direction

Now that the hunting season is on, many men will go afield in all parts of the country entirely strange to them. Few indeed carry a pocket compass and it is well to remember that nature has provided a hundred and one pointers by which direction can be found.

For instance, there is a mature tree that stands apart from its fellows. The bark on this tree will be harder, drier and lighter in color on the south side. On the North it will be darker and often at the roots it will show a camp of mold or moss. On the outside of all evergreen trees gum which oozes from wounds and knot holes will be hard and amber-colored. On the North side this gum is softer, generally dustier, and is of a solid gray hue. In the autumn or winter trees that show a rough bark have nests of insects in the crevices on the South side.

Hardwood trees—the oak, the ash, elm, hickories, maples, etc.—have moss and mosses on the North. Leaves are smaller, tougher, lighter in color and with darker veins on the South. On the North they are larger, of darker green and with lighter veins. Spiders build on the South side. In the South air plants will attach themselves to the North side. Cedars bend their tips to the South.

Sawed or cut stumps will afford the compass points inasmuch as the concentric rings are thicker on the South side. The heart of the stump is thus nearer to the North side. These results are said to be due to the influence of the sun. Stones are bear on the South side, and if they show any moss at all it will be on the North. At best, on the sunny side, only a thin covering of moss, half-dry moss will be found. The ground is noisier under foot on the South side of a hill. On the North side ferns, mosses and late flowers grow. When one is in a marsh small bushes will afford the lesson. Then leaves and limbs show the same difference. Almost all wild flowers turn their faces to the South.

IN MAYSVILLE

THE EVIDENCE IS SUPPLIED BY LOCAL TESTI-MONY

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statements and experience of a resident of Maysville what can it be?

Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front street, Maysville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured me of kidney complaint and I am glad to confirm all I said in 1908, when I publicly endorsed them. I attribute my kidney trouble to a strain which started with sharp shooting pains through my kidneys, and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I was afflicted regularly with dull headaches and dizzy spells, and often if I had not caught hold of something for support I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice the symptoms of dropsy, and in a short time I was suffering from this trouble. My feet began to swell and my hands also were afflicted at times in the same way. At night I was restless and always felt tired. I read of a similar case being cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, and I got the remedy at Wood & Son's Drug Store. This relieved me so much from the first that I got another supply, and before long I was entirely cured. Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

A MILLION AUTOS

Now Owned in the U. S.— 340,000 Machines Turned Out in 1912

Californians Have Purchased 24,526 Autos This Year

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Achieving a record not surpassed by any other industry given to the production of intricate, sensitive, high-grade mechanism, that devoted to the manufacture of the automobile presents results positively staggering in their extent and magnitude, and all as sequel to ten years of endeavor on the part of American makers.

Early in the year a detailed, painstaking canvass was undertaken, with the view of learning the exact present status in the United States of the motor vehicle in a quantitative way, and authentic statistics are now made public, as follows:

On October 1st, 1912, there were registered 990,738 automobiles, with total valuation of $1,188,885,600, allowing $1,200 as the average price of each car. Of this number 920,918 were gasoline pleasure cars, 35,978 motor trucks and 33,842 electric vehicles. According to the last National census this means that for every ninety-two inhabitants there is one self-propelling machine.

An astounding fact noted is that of all the automobiles used throughout the union, 26.9 per cent. have been purchased since January 1st of this year.

The registration fees total $5,229,- 459.65, or an average taxation by the state of $5.28 upon each and every automobile.

In the matter of distribution New York leads with a total of 102,870 cars; California comes second with 83,728, and Ohio third, with 63,550.

Though following the Empire state in the whole number of machines used, California stands first in the magnitude of additions, she having acquired 24,526 new cars during 1912, thereby giving one automobile to every twenty-eight people, as against one to each eighty-nine in New York.

Positively stupendous has been the increase of registrations in West Virginia and Maine, the former showing gain of 148 per cent., latter of 147; feats without parallel in the history of the industry.

A review of the growth of motor car manufacture offers some vivid and stirring figures. In 1903 only 9,000 machines were built all told; in 1904 the number grew to 12,000, then to a leap to 22,500 in 1905 and swung upward thereafter with great rapidity, to wit: in 1906, 30,000; 1907, 39,000; 1908, 50,000; 1909, 108,000; 1910, 173,000; 1911, 200,000; 1912, 340,000.

As regards the manufacture of motor machines it is shown there are now 575 distinct concerns therein engaged, 100 of these located in Michigan, with 68 in Ohio.
These be dull, cold figures, but what of fancy they hold for the minds of such pioneers as Apperson, Duryea, and Ford, who were laughed to scorn for predictions that one day the streets of the American nation would be overrun with vehicles propelling themselves, without the aid of any outside agency whatsoever.

"BAZAAR BENEFIT"

At the May's Lick High School Building on Thanksgiving Day

It seems but a little while ago since "Minerva" harkened to the voice of "Eve's other children" and today we stand on the threshold of an era when the rural boy and girl stand "brain to brain" with their city cousin. Intellectual opportunities are reaching out to the most remote sections, and eager, thirsting minds grasp at the fruit of knowledge.

The progressive little village of May's Lick nestling in the heart of a wealthy and cultured community is sounding a clarion bugle in the march of progress, being first to adopt the consolidated and transportation school system; thus standing pre-eminent in the State High School circles.

To further the cause the ladies of this consolidated district are united in their efforts to make the "Bazaar Benefit" to be given for the aid of the School on Thanksgiving Day a financial and social success.

The day's program will be varied by a menu of Thanksgiving abundance served by fair waitresses in true Kentucky style; a bazaar of fancy and useful articles, a country produce department from the well filled larders of many homes, a basket ball game, three plays and the cultured hospitality in which the May's Lick community excels.

There will be room and attractions for all ages and the public is cordially invited to aid and encourage this good work

The corn show was splendid, but it

In fact, the impression made on your reporter during the whole day he spent at Bowling Green was that it was all too big, too fine, too impressive to the throbb of enthusiasm in a crowd that is surcharged with it, but it is a far different matter to put it into cold print.

FAIR THAT MADE A TOWN WAKE UP

Bowling Green's School Gathering Beat the Circus.

IT ROUSED CIVIC PRIDE.

And Made Citizens Realize That Kentucky Was Forging Forward to Take Her Place With Other States of the Union.

A circus can bring a crowd into a town that will tax the livery stables and side streets, but a school fair and parade can do the same. On Oct. 26 Bowling Green was crowded, crowded as if a show was in town, but there was a difference. It was a crowd of eager, expectant people, with eyes looking far beyond the mere parade; it was a crowd that marks the awakening of a state that had dozed comfortably for

LINE OF SCHOOL BOOTH.

years; it was a crowd that unconsciously was making history. It was not a yelling, surging crowd, but one that stood quietly as the parade passed and made remarks that were pregnant with thought. One grizzled old farmer looked far down the line of sturdy marching children, smiled and remarked to his neighbor: "This is the biggest day Bowling Green ever had. It's bigger than speeches, elections and everything else."

Just think of practically every school child in the county in line, parading the principal streets of the town. Think of the school pride that came to them while preparing their unique costumes and banners to compete for the prizes offered. There were whole schools in blue and white, black and scarlet, brown and red and pure white. One group had each and every boy, big and little, in a brand new pair of blue overalls. Even the subdistrict trustee had caught the contagion of enthusiasm and marched in his new blue overalls.

Back to the top of the hill on which the buildings of the Western Normal rest went the line of march. Behind them went the throng of parents and friends to have a look at the display of the Boys' Corn club of Warren county and the exhibits of the schools.
In one of the large rooms at the school booths were arranged that each district school might have a distinct space for its handiwork. A walk among these booths showed beauteous biscuits, cakes, bread, preserves, jellies, garden vegetables, doll furniture, sewing of

Farmers Should Hold Tobacco Cynthiana Log Cabin.
It will be remembered that buyers for the Lexington market picked up the best crops of tobacco in this county last year at less than they were worth. They made a lot of money and the farmers were the losers. We repeat that the speculators always offer less than they think a crop is worth on the market or they would not make the offer, as they expect to make a profit. The farmer who sells on the loose leaf market will get the top price.

Terrible Shooting Scrape
New York, November 18th.—A man and a woman stood in a small room of a Rialto Hotel in the Bronx tonight and deliberately shot down two detectives and two other men, who were trying to place the pair under arrest. At or nearly emptying the eleven chambers of a large automatic revolver, reinforced by shots from an ordinary revolver, in the hands of his woman companion, and probably fatally injuring four of those whom he shot down, the man shot and killed the woman and then put a bullet through his own head, dying instantly.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Turkey Suffers Heavy Loss LONDON, ENGLAND, November 18th.—Any idea that the Turkish Government may have had of benefiting from continued resistance must be shattered by today's news of the fall of Monastir. In the capture of that important town the Servians took three Pashas, 50,000 men and forty-seven guns, thus achieving the greatest individual success of the war. Monastir was the second city of importance in European Turkey. It was Turkey's stronghold in Macedonia, and by its downfall Macedonia passes completely out of Turkish hands.

LET YOUR MONEY WORK FOR YOU!

It is astonishing how fast money will pile up when it is set to working.
One dollar at 3% compound interest will more than double itself in twenty-five years.

We Compute Interest on Savings deposits every six months.

Then we add that interest to your original deposit and at the end of another six months, we figure interest on the total. This interest is again added and so on.

Can you see how rapidly your money will grow?

Start a deposit now and make your money earn more money for you.

The interest goes right along, day after day, year after year.

3% Compounded Semi-annually, Paid on Deposits.

JEFF DAVIS' STATUE
To Be Placed in Kentucky Capitol By U. D. C.'s.

WASHINGTON.—After several executive sessions with the general officers of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, members of the Kentucky delegation reached a compromise on their proposition to remove the statue of Abraham Lincoln from the State Capitol at Frankfort and replace it with one of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy. A member of the delegation said:

"Of course, we would rather replace the Lincoln statue, but there is nothing to prevent us from placing a statue of Jeff Davis which will be a few inches higher than the Lincoln memorial."

The gage marks 98 and falling.

Business is quiet with the packets at present. The fall business as a whole has been the best for years.
